
Tips for Writing NSF Grants

Are you looking for strategies to increase your likelihood of becoming an NSF grant award winner?

Join us for a panel discussion with three such winners to hear their tips for successful grant writing for the National Science Foundation.

Office of Sponsored Programs director Sandy Sward will also be on hand to review the steps involved in the proposal submission process. Sandy and the panel will accept questions from the audience at the conclusion of the session.

Panel members:

- Valérie Copié, professor, Dept. of Chemistry & Biochemistry
- Robert Rydell, professor, Dept. of History, Philosophy & Religious Studies
- Mark Young, professor, Dept. of Plant Sciences & Plant Pathology

Moderated by Sue Monahan, associate dean, College of Letters & Science, and Marilyn Lockhart, interim director of Faculty Development

Coming March 26th:

Building a Scholarly Career

Watch your email box for information on this session!

Friday, Mar. 2, 2012

Location: SUB 235

Soup & salad served: 11:45 a.m.

Discussion: 12:00-1:00 p.m.

Please RSVP to annea@montana.edu by Wed., Feb. 29, 2012 and indicate your level of familiarity with NSF grants.

This session will be video recorded and posted within a week following the event at the Faculty Development website events page.

