

New to academic advising? Pick up some tips from the pros at this Faculty Excellence workshop October 9th!

Faculty Advising at MSU

Tuesday, Oct. 9, 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m., Plant BioScience 108

This two-hour session is designed for new faculty, or for any faculty who want to learn more about academic advising and resources that MSU offers students. The session will cover basic information on the following:

- DegreeWorks—The new online advising tool that will “go live” for advisors’ use this fall
- Tips for faculty to make the most effective use of limited time to connect with their advisees
- Review of commonly used Registrar forms and policies
- Core 2.0 curriculum
- Credits students transfer in from other institutions, or through Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate or Dual-Enrollment
- Math Placement/Science prerequisite requirements
- Information on resources from across campus to help students

Presenters: Phil Gaines, Professor and Dept. Head, English; Tony Campeau, Assistant Registrar; Diane Donnelly, Interim Director, University Studies and Academic Advising Center

Lunch will be served.

This session will be recorded and archived at the Faculty Excellence event webpage.

Registration is required by 5:00 p.m., Friday, Oct. 5. Click here to register.