

The Online Classroom Critical Incident Questionnaire

Please respond to the questions below about this online course so far. Please do not put your name on the form - your responses are anonymous. If nothing comes to mind for any of the questions just leave the space blank. Next week I will share the group's responses. Thanks for taking the time to do this. What you write will help us make the class more responsive to your concerns.

So far, when did you feel most engaged with this class?

At what moment in class were you most distanced from what was happening?

What actions by either a teacher or student have been the most affirming or helpful?

What actions by either a teacher or student have been the most puzzling or confusing?

What about the class so far surprised you the most? (This could be about your own reactions to what went on, something that someone said, or anything else that occurs).

What have you done so far in this class to enhance your own learning? (This could be a description of what you are doing to access course content and meet the learning objectives of the course).

Adapted from Stephen Brookfield's Classroom Critical Incident Questionnaire
http://stephenbrookfield.com/Dr. Stephen D. Brookfield/Critical Incident Questionnaire.html

Jackson, L. and Johnson, C. The Online Classroom Critical Incident Questionnaire.