

College of Engineering Excellence in Teaching Award

Mandy Rutherford

The MSU College of Engineering received numerous nominations for the College of Engineering's Excellence in Teaching Award, which recognizes excellence in teaching as demonstrated through application of new and innovative teaching methods and engagement of students in scholarship. The award consists of a $500.00 honorarium and was announced at the College's Annual Awards Ceremony May 3rd, 2017.

The Award is open to any individual engaged in teaching (including NTT faculty and instructors). One award was given to a Tenure Track faculty member and one award was given to a Non-Tenure Track faculty member. The nomination is grounded on an extraordinary record of teaching and related scholarly excellence

Mandy Rutherford is the Coordinator for the MakerSpace and this year's worthy recipient of the College of Engineering's Excellence in Teaching Award!

Congratulations Mandy!
